All Connection Keeping products are personal use only. Contact me at kelly@connectionkeeping.com to enquire about the use of my products not specifically addressed in this Terms of Use document.

All copyrights to my products and the graphics within my products are retained by me, Kelly Wardlow, per Title 17 of the United States Code and International intellectual property law.

Products are digital and no physical product will be delivered. Great care has been taken to ensure the digital files are in good working order. Should you discover that any of the zipped files you have downloaded have somehow been corrupted and you contact me within the first 90 days after purchase, (connectionkeeping.com) I will provide replacement files. Because the products are digital, I am unable to offer a refund for duplicate purchases, so please check your inventory carefully prior to purchase.
